

Endowments of the School of Medicine AND BIOMEDICAL SCIENCES

Private philanthropy will mean the difference between the maintenance of a good university and the evolution of an extraordinary one. Scholarship endowments are especially vital in this evolution, as they help attract the highest caliber students. The School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences is fortunate that alumni step forward every year to provide students the kind of financial support that allows them to pursue their dreams of becoming a physician. We hear frequently that alumni feel grateful for their education and for the kind of career and life made possible by their graduation from UB's medical school. They often express that gratitude by "giving back" so that a student may flourish academically with a lessened financial burden.

A list of all of the school's current endowments, as well as those for the Health Sciences Library, follows. We welcome too with this listing the Department of Biotechnical and Clinical Laboratory Sciences, which was moved from the School of Public Health and Health Professions to the School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences. New endowments appear in bold.

Are you feeling grateful these days? If so, you may want to consider becoming a donor and establish an endowment to benefit a student, a department, a research area, or the school. Please call us at 716-829-2773 to talk about ways you can make your own dreams of "giving back" come true. We can help.
