UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO
FOUNDED 1846
To the student of dentistry two things loom important upon the horizon of his future — knowledge and confidence; knowledge of what he must do and how he must do it, confidence in what he is doing and in himself. Unfortunately few of those with whom he comes in contact are capable of bestowing both these attributes upon him. We, however, have realized one possessing this ability in Dr. Harold R. Ortman.

Always greeting the student with a smile and a tone of reassurance, he eases the burden of the most difficult task. His chairside manner with student and patient puts both at ease, so that the advice he is about to give will be assimilated by both.

Since joining the faculty of the University of Buffalo, he has helped make the prosthetics department one of the finest and most respected in the country. The spirit endowed by this department has enabled graduates of the University of Buffalo to receive the praises of so many in the profession.

We, the Dental Class of 1961, therefore dedicate this book to Dr. Harold R. Ortman as a small measure of our appreciation.

Medical Dedication

It is with great pride that the Senior Medical Class of 1961 dedicate their yearbook to Dr. Theodore Henry Noehren, Assistant Professor of Medicine at the University of Buffalo.

After receiving his M.D. degree from the University of Rochester in 1942, Dr. Noehren served three years in the U.S.N.R., returned to Strong Memorial Hospital for residency training, and then served as a Fellow at the Mayo Foundation. Before joining the faculty at the University of Buffalo in 1952, he was Instructor of Medicine and Assistant Professor of Preventive Medicine and Public Health at the University of Utah. In 1953, he was a Marke Scholar and is presently a Dr. Henry C. and Bertha H. Buswell Fellow.

He has earned our sustained admiration. In our many encounters with him, we are impressed with his many attributes whether in research, teaching or counseling. His comprehension of humane emotions and scientific knowledge has helped us to perceive the art as well as the science of medicine.

We will remember Dr. Theodore H. Noehren as a man, an educator, and a friend.
Deans of the Medical and Dental Schools

The Faculty of the School of Dentistry has complete confidence that each member of the Class of 1961 will devote the rest of his life to conscientious service to humanity. We are certain that you possess the fundamental knowledge required to provide full care to the needs of your patients, and that with the experience gained from practice you will develop further confidence and a fulfillment of your professional desire for achievement. Carry out your professional service with dignity, maintain the utmost consideration for your patients and be guided by the best traditions of your profession.

We know how hard you have worked and we know the sacrifices that go along with an education. We pray for your continued growth and for the opportunity to help you extend your knowledge in future years. May the bonds between you and your school remain firm!

As you go away into your separate lives, our best wishes go with you.

To those of your family and friends, the Faculty of the School of Medicine and I wish to add our sincere congratulations on the successful completion of your undergraduate studies of medicine and on receiving the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

Having now achieved the common bond of educational experiences which all physicians share, you will begin the postgraduate training which will separate your class into the many fields in which medicine makes its contributions to modern society. We hope that as you begin to assume the responsibilities of patient care, teaching and research you will demonstrate the high ethical, moral and professional standards which the faculty has tried to inculcate and which the public expects of you as physicians and citizens.

Our best wishes go with you on the start of your professional career.

DENTAL GRADUATES
As we, the Dental Graduates of 1961, are about to enter our chosen profession, let us pause momentarily to cast a gazing retrospective upon the past four years.

It was a brisk September afternoon in 1957 that we gathered together to hear Dean Gauchat’s welcoming words. At that initial meeting it was difficult to anticipate the friendships and varied experiences that each of us would nurture during our dental training.

Following weeks of hard work and much anxiety prior to Anatomy recitations and Histology practicals, we somehow managed to progress to the spring semester. We were soon in the midst of Biochemistry and Physiology filtering hydrogen ions against the “gamma loop.” As summer approached we knew relief was close at hand, and in a short while we were opening the letters that carried the good news — we were Sophomores.

Sophomore year passed quickly as we thrived on the dental milieu. We learned quickly that when any technical problem arose “the seniors” always knew the answer. We now were a closely knit group tempered by the constant “ragging” that was an integral part of every laboratory period.

By the end of the year we felt like veterans having taken our State and National Boards; but it required a union meeting and a late surge of speed to convince our technique instructors that we would complete our requirements.

As eager Juniors we gingerly approached our first patient and after the first few traumatic appointments we gradually developed the necessary confidence for a pleasant altogether manner. Our class policy of “strength in numbers” continued to be evident, as the class renegades were reprimanded for insubordination even though there was one microscope for each union member.

By the completion of our Junior year we were christened clinicians anxious to begin the long awaited senior year.

The early weeks of the senior year slipped by rapidly with hospital assignments and appointments requiring more time than there seemed to be available.

We were all proud of A. J. Swiatowy, one of our industrious classmates, who ably represented our class at Los Angeles where he presented a table clinic entitled: “A Closer Look At Metallic Restorations.” As our final year progressed we began to appreciate that the many sleepless nights and frequent frustrations were not experienced in vain but served to mold us into steady clinicians.

As we conclude our final year we sincerely thank the entire faculty for the training that they have given to us. We depart with a feeling of gratitude and accomplishment, with the hope that each graduate will have the opportunity to choose that phase of dentistry that is most appealing to him and thereby cultivate his ability into many years of successful practice.

The Dental School of the University of Buffalo this year loses one of its most devoted and most respected teachers. This man has brought about an awareness and an appreciation of medicine, and its application to dentistry, to dental students for more than a score of years. He has done this with a warmness and a wit which has made his course a pleasure as well as a valuable learning experience. He has exemplified the spirit of the University of Buffalo School of Dentistry — to teach the dentist that he does not have a limited world, but that he is part of the medical sciences and must be aware of the whole being.

This man has truly deserved the title of Doctor for besides a busy practice he has devoted himself to teaching for the greater part of his life. He was graduated from Syracuse with A.B. degree in 1914 and B.S. in 1915. Prior to entering medicine he taught science at Silver Creek High School for 2 years and at Fredonia State College for one year. Returning to Syracuse, he received his M.D. in 1921. Upon graduation he came to Buffalo General Hospital for a one year internship and then spent three years under the preceptorship of the late Dr. George Eidel.

His teaching career in medicine began in 1924 when he taught physical diagnosis, which course he continued until 1942. In 1957 he was retired at the statutory age as Assistant Professor of Medicine. In April 1938 he was appointed Associate in Special Medicine in Dentistry and since then has continuously taught didactic and clinical medicine in the Dental School. In June 1952 he was elevated to Assistant Professor of Special Medicine in Dentistry, which position he now holds until his retirement in June 1961.

He is a fellow of the American College of Physicians and is a diplomat of the Board of Internal Medicine. He has been active on the staffs of the Buffalo General Hospital, Meyer Memorial Hospital and Deaconess Hospital.

It is this man, Dr. Frank J. Monteiro, that the Dental Class of 1961 wishes to salute in appreciation of the knowledge and understanding he has imparted to them and their predecessors.
